WHITPAIN AND L. GWYNEDD.

Who's Who and What's What in the Two Townships.

Miss Mary E. Williams, the daughter of Robert Williams of Gwynedd Valley, is recovering from a serious operation for appendicitis performed eight weeks ago in the Norristown hospital.

The Whitpain Alumni will hold a summer meeting at the Blue Bell High school next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

A maid in the employ of Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, of Normandy farms, near Gwynedd Valley, was arrested Thursday night charged with the theft of a pearl necklace valued at $20,000, and a diamond studed hair pin valued at $5,000. The arrest was made by Officer Joseph P. Ford, of the state police, and to whom the maid, it is alleged, confessed. She was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Urban on Friday morning and gave the name of Madeleine Gearnneret and her age as 17 years. After hearing the evidence she was held under $2500 bail for her appearance at he next term of court, in default of which she was committed to the Montgomery county jail. The jewels are said to have been the property of Mrs. Strassburger's sister, Miss Marjorie Bourne, who was on a visit here from her Long Island home. During her stay at Normandy farms Miss Bourne paid a visit to Philadelphia friends. It was during her absence that the theft is said to have taken place. The jewels were missing, it was stated, from about May 12th. After all other efforts to locate them failed the state police were notified and officer Ford was detailed on the case. After an investigation the maid was suspected and upon being questioned, the police say the girl broke down and admitted that she had hid the jewels in a stand drawer, which was in a bath room of the servants' quarters, and from which they were recovered by the officer. The girl is rather large for her age and appears much older than she is. She is also rather good looking, of medium build and of dark complexion. She is French and speaks very little English.

Helen Pole Wins Verdict of $20,000.

Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pole, of Hendricks street, Ambler, was awarded $20,000 and her father $1500 by a jury in the Philadelphia courts last Wednesday afternoon. The case was the outcome of an accident that happened at the Lansdale station last January, and the decision was given against the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company. The story of the affair is as follows: Miss Pole, who is about 17 years of age, was a student of the Lansdale School of Business and was on her way home from the school when the accident, that resulted in the loss of one of her limbs, happened. There were 12 witnesses, mostly railroad employes, that testified before the court that Miss Pole attempted to board the train while it was in motion and that the injuries she sustained were the result of her own carelessness. Some of the defendant's witnesses also contended that the train, at the time Miss Pole was trying to board it, was moving at a rate of 10 or 12 miles an hour, and they fixed the place where the accident happened, as being from 90 to 100 feet from the street crossing. The contention of the plaintiff was that she was jolted off by a sudden jerk of the train, and that the train was standing and had not moved moved when she had reached the first step. It was also testified that the steps were wet and slippery at the time. Other witnesses testifying for Miss Pole stated that the train did start off in the manner described by her and they were the last to board the train and that no trainmen were upon the platform at the time they got on. The verdict was a splendid victory for Miss Pole's attorney, Harold G. Knight, Esq., who made a most excellent plea, and by the defendant's own witnesses was able to show to the satisfactory of the jury, it appeared, that the accident could not have happened as stated by them, despite the fact that they were positive. Congratulations have been pouring in upon Miss Pole and her attorney ,Mr. Knight. At Lansdale there was also much rejoicing over the verdict, as Miss Pole was a favorite among all who knew her and because of the splendid courage shown at the time she lay on the Lansdale station platform with her leg so badly crushed that it had to be amputated about eight inches below the knee, and later her happy disposition despite her terrible misfortune, she earned the name of "Pollyanna of the Lansdale school." It is not known, at this time, whether or not an appeal will be taken.

—John Hager, of Conshohocken, has been appointed a member of the state police. He has had much detective experience.

ONE FOR CHESTNUT HILL.

Defeats Ambler in Good Game, 3 to 0.

Victors Played Scientific Ball as Opposed to Visitors—Only Three Hits Off Groghan—Story of the Game—Shake Up at Ambler.

After losing 21 or 22 straight games Chestnut Hill put up an article of ball against Ambler on the Wheel Pump grounds last Saturday afternon that certainly spelled defeat for Manager Amey's outfit and as a result the Hillers defeated the locals by the score of 3 to 0. The Chestnut Hill boys, including Manager Bennis, deserve full credit for the victory. It was the old game of waiting out the pitcher, which played a most important part in the down fall of the Ambler team. Manager Bennis had his boys standing up making Feurei who was on the hill for Ambler, pitch them over and when Fuerei failed to get them over the plate they refused to hit at the bad ones. This style of play, unless a pitcher has splendid control, is bound to be an important factor in winning ball games.

It was a great game from start to finish and Chestnut Hill deserved to win, because it not only put up the best game in the field, but because Manager Bennis' boys played the game as it should be played in all its departments. Ambler was woefully weak with the bat, and before the third inning was finished it was seen, that unless the unexpected happened, Geoghan, who was on the rubber for Chestnut Hill, would have the locals eating out if his hand, as they say in baseball. This was a fact, for the sum total of Ambler's stick work was three safe blows. In his work, Geoghan was greatly aided by Ambler, who had the one idea, to knock the ball out of the lot. Back of Geoghan, Manager Hennis' boys played splendid ball. Especially is this true of McGoory, who not only caught a great game, but his throwing to bases was one of the refreshing features, and before the contest was finished he turned back no fewer than four of the Ambler players who attempted to steal on him. Besides the number that McGoory threw out at second Geoghan caused ten of the Ambler players to fly out, while five of them died on strikes.

Here is how Chestnut Hill applied the whitewash brush: Wood opened the sixth session with a single. Rothwell played the game and lay down a neat sacrifice. Hyde placed Wood on third when he was thrown out at first on his grounder to Burns. Wood was sent over the rubber when Byrne, who made the remarkable record of having a clean batting average of 1000 for the day, having received a base on balls and secured three hits on his other three times at the bat, cracked a nice single to left center. In the seventh period the Hillers scored their second run, Fuerei paving the way by passing McGoory, who was advanced to second by Geoghan, and on Hamilton's two-bagger he scored. In the eighth inning Hyde got on after Rothwell was retired by shooting a liner to right for a single. He stole second and when Byrne cracked out a two base blow for his third hit of the game he crossed the rubber for the third and last run.

Ambler had at least three chances to send runners around to the home station, but failed to take advantage of their opportunities, and as a result they were able to get a runner only as far as second. Ambler's playing in the field was all that could be expected, and despite the eight hits that Chestnut Hill made off of him, Fuerei pitched a game that will win nine out of ten times. He was ably backed by O'Neil, who caught a beautiful game. Following is the score:

FARMERS ARE DISCOURAGED.

Crops Not Promising and Prices Are Low.

Discussion at Horsham Farmers' Club Meeting—Parasite for Potato Bugs—Report from Harrisburg Farm Products Show.

The Horsham Farmers' club met at the home of Alfred and Susan J. Williams, Hatboro on the evening of May 21st. President Isaac Michener called to order on time. The Secretary read an excellent resume of the previous meeting .

Reports of Committees. Ezra Carrell reported that the committee appointed to join with "The neighbors" in a visit to the Farm School during June he offered a tentative suggestion. This was carried. Mrs. Gheen explained the position and June 15 was chosen as the date of the visit.

Answering of referred questions. "Have the prices of those goods farmers buy been reduced in proportion to those they sell?" Alfred Williams said they had not, but he could not assign any reason but over-production on the part of the farm goods. The farmers were asked to produce and they did, but many of the things we buy are as high as before.

Mr. Gheen quoted prices of goods farmers buy and some that the prices of their goods to sell are falling constantly.

"Has spraying and grading of potatoes been valuable to the grower?"

Mr. Saurman had sent an excellent answer to his question. He summed up by saying the spraying and grading are as important as the application of manure. Mr. Saurman grades his potatoes in five sizes, and has sold them to more advantage other growers. "In your experience what have you discovered as 'tricks' in getting a good corn crop?" Mr. Gheen said the first thing is a spirit of industry, then good fertilization, thorough cultivation, and when planting time comes be sure it is so early that if it is necessary to replant that your will not be too late. Put in plenty of seed and thin it three or four stalks. I hav raised 30 or 100 bushels to the acre. It is easier to raise the 30. Never plant corn without testing the seed.

H. Warner Hallowell, said the time to fertilize for the 1922 crop will be two months hence. Raise it with the least expense for each bushel. The worst feature of farming is that most farmers are not salesmen. It is better to have your crops in the bank than in your barn.

Mr. Adlee asked when the field should be fertilized. Mr. Hallowell told him not later than early autumn. Mr. Carrell advocates all possible cultivation. He always cultivates the corn after harvest. Mr. Gheen said it takes 11 1-3 bushel baskets to four shocks to make 100 bushels to the acre.

"Is it ethecal for farmers to use butter substitutes?" Mrs. Wm. Penrose, Jr., said the farmers who use substitute butter and milk is simply a traitor to his profession. She gave the formula used by a number of manufacturers of these substitues and gave opinions of well known food experts with regard to the value of pure butter fat, and the impossibility of gaining this value in any manufactured preparation.

Report of the Crop committee. In answer to the call for a report from the crop committee N. E. Wood said he fears there will be very little fruit. There were a number of late blossoms that came out after the freeze, but at present with the exception of the sour Morello cherry, there seems no promise on any of the trees. He said the last year's potato crop has proved a calamity to many. The seed was very high and the prices secured were very low.

He has heard of a parasite that destroys the potato bug. It lays eggs on the newly hatched bug, and they hatch under the shell that grows later.

In a very few hours their work is accomplished. In answer to a question he could not say that it will destroy rose bugs also . The potatoes have come up very poorly. Many fields have been replanted.

William Penrose said he fears the hay crop will not be the success hoped. There is but little clover and the timothy fields are full of weeds.

Domestic Science. Mrs. Sill warned her listeners that this season portends a great number of insects of all kinds. The best housekeepers are horrified to see moth flies everywhere, and every species of aphid and louse has already appeared on roses and young vegetables. To overcome these last spray frequently with a weak solution of Ivory soap. For moths red cedar is the least offensive as well as most efficacious. But see to it there are no eggs deposited. This will keep the flies away, not kill the worms.

Mrs. Jesse Penrose had a number of valuable hints. One, if a cork is too large to put in a bottle don't whittle it. Drop it for a few minutes in boiling water.

Miss Sarah Goentner gave an excellent talk on current events. For the good of the club, Miss Goentner asked that each one contribute a good cake to the fete at Abington Hospital on June 7.

John Park told in a very interesting way of the midwinter show of farm products at Harrisburg. Mrs. Park told of the meeting of the Society of Farm Women. They have a wonderful song leader, Mrs. Rose Morgan. In answer to a question "Unless a wife has the vision and is willing and able for farm life, it is not worth while for a man to try to farm?" Governor Sproul, Secretary Rasnassau and others agreed that the women are the most valued asset on the farm and must be made happy and comfortable on the farms. This society is a wonderful practical and valuable party of women.

"Will the girl of the future depend on home or the school instructor for sewing and cooking?" She will learn most from the best teacher whether that be found at school or in her home.

"What effect will the woman voter have in purifying politics?" Miss Alma Walton gave an excellent answer.

—Montgomery County Historical society has petitioned Norristown council to restore the name of Main street to Egypt.

NO SCHOOL TAX INCREASE.

Ambler Board Finds 12 1-2 Mills Sufficient.

The Whole Financial Budget Received—Whole Revenue and Appropriations Will Probably Reach $56,228—Plans for a High School Structure.

There will be no increase in Ambler's tax rate for school purposes for next year, nor will there be any increase in the occupation tax. This matter was decided last Friday evening at a special meeting of the Ambler school board held in the Mattison avenue building. These members were in attendance : President G. Y. Styer; Secretary Philip Maas, Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry, Dr. George Robinson and Arthur Nichols. The tax rate will remain at 12 1-2 mills and the occupation tax at $2. It was an interesting meeting, and the members remained in session until mid-night in order to fully consider the financial business of our schools and to prepare a budget for the coming school year by which the board can safely guard the finances and at the same time enable the members to maintain the same efficiency in our schools without increasing the tax rate. Too much credit cannot be given the supervising principal, J. M. Fisher, who was present, rendering valuable assistance to the board in preparing the schedule for the school term of 1921-1922, also assisting in the financial work.

The following interesting facts are presented for the consideration of the tax payers of the borough: The total assessment of real estate last year was $1,912,830, and for the same year 885 persons were assessed for occupation tax. This year real estate assessments will reach $1,926,895, an increase of 14,065, and the persons who are taxed for occupations this year will reach 1797, or an increase over last year of 912, which number represents mostly women. The estimated income from taxes, including occupation, will be about $27,694. The amount to be received from tuition appropriations and other sources, estimated, will bring the total revenue to probably $56,228. The Edmunds salary bill will give the board about $13,500 towards payment of the teacher's salaries. The total expenses for the past year there will be a balance of about $600. It is believed based entirely upon estimation, the expenses for the 1921-22 will probably total $50,000. The teachers' salaries for the present year amounted to $27,334, and for the years of 1921 22, with the same number of teachers, it will total $32,000, it is estimated, which will give the teachers an increase of almost $6000. Only 11 of the present teaching force were elected. There yet remain 13 to be elected.

The splendid manner in which the borough school affairs have been transacted during the trying times through which the nation has passed calls for the loudest praise. No official school board anywhere in the state has been so careful and so watchful of the school finances as the members of the Ambler board. And not only have the members been careful in a financial way, but they have been successful in having one of the most efficient schools along the North Penn. At this time the members are deservedly proud to come before the taxpayers of the borough and say that "we will again conduct the affairs of your school and maintain the same high standard of efficiency with the same tax rate."

Mr. Maas, secretary of the board, speaking for the members said: "Careful plans are being arranged for a new high school for Ambler, and either at the August or September meeting the matter will be taken up by the board and discussed, and it is likely that the board will go before the voters and ask for a loan of sufficient amount to build one of the most complete high school buildings in the state."

Miss Florence Whiteside, of Babylon, spent Saturday in Philadelphia.

Elva and Jennie Harrar, of Horsham, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Allen, of Babylon.

David Barlow, who recently occupied the former Cozens estate property at Babylon, has been cleaning up around and improving the same.

On Saturday afternon last a fire threatened the destruction of the barn on the Joseph Wood lower farm, when flames commenced under a lot of hay. Fortunately the place was somewhat damp, which hampered the progress of the blaze, and the activity of the employes and the prompt arrival of the Horsham and Hatboro fire companies extinguished the blaze after a hard battle.

SCHOOL OF HORTICULTURE

Thoughts on the Successful Ambler Institution.

Sarah D. Lowrie Writes in the Philadelphia Evening Ledger—School Is Nearly Self Supporting—Its Finances Revieved

I have been following the results of the School of Horticulture out at Ambler for nearly ten years now, and I am very admiring of the pluck and perseverance and real common sense that have been shown by those who are responsible for it. It has made a place for itself as a good business proposition and a decided factor in all this countryside. Perhaps as an experiment in the raising of fruit and flowers and vegetables it is as well the site of its seventy-one acres should be neither very propitious as to soil or exposure. The pupils are not likely, at least in their future work as gardeners on other estates, to have as difficult conditions to make the best of. Apart from the very clayey nature of the soil and the wind-swept exposure of the garden, the place is admirable both as to location and as to its buildings for its purpose, and good management has supplied whatever the original plant lacked either in charm or reasonable convenience.

I observe that the farm at Ambler about pays for itself, and that the maintenance of the greenhouse for experimentation, the bees and the jam kitchen and the poultry yards cost about $5000, which cost is covered by the sale of produce of the jam kitchen, the honey and the poultry. Apparently by the thrifty management of the head directress and her staff, the board of the pupils and the general maintenance are covered by the board and tuition fees. The school earnings are, however, not yet paying the salaries of the teachers—$9000—which amount has to be raised, together with the interest on the mortgage and loans, which total $50,000. It looks as though the trustees must have to raise about $12,000 each year to cover salaries and interest on loans.

At present about twenty pupils and the faculty can be accommodated in the school buildings. I should say $700 would see a student through the year—say $1000 counting working clothes, pocket money and board tuition and laundry and carfare there and back. If she has any talent for the work she ought to get more than that the first year she starts out on her career either as worker or teacher or supervisor. That is, she will stand a better chance at a better paid job than most clergymen, many teachers and some clerical workers.

The slogan, "Back to the land," is a much more practical one for women than it could have been before the days of electricity and Fords and specialized crops and intensive cultivation and canning kitchens.

It is perfectly possible for a woman to plant and to cultivate and to utilize her own vegetable garden. Women can grow and pick and can small fruit crops; i. e., berries, currants, cherries, peaches, etc. Women can raise poultry and keep bees. They can make a great business of green-house culture with employed labor and act as supervisors of big gardens and private places, and all this without undue physical strain. The killing thing about "back to the land" for women is cooking for the men, cleaning the dairy utensils, churning the butter, being farmers' wives and the mothers of children, and tending to the poultry, vegetable garden and pigs besides. They do not follow the plow or pull it, as the poor German women do, nor do many of them any more have to drag water up from a well or stoop over butter-making in a springhouse or scrub heavy clothes by hand, as their mothers did, but even with electric washers and churns, milk separators and indoor plumbing the ordinary day's work of a farmer's wife is too hard to tempt her daughter to follow in her footsteps even for love. It can be made easier by just such schools as this at Ambler, where the raising of crops that can be made to pay without breaking the courage is practically taught and illustrated, and where, above all, the great art of cooperation is made an everyday object lesson—a canning kitchen for the whole neighborhood, a migratory neighborhood harvesting or planting group, a common delivery to market and a co-operative selling and purchasing agency, a community laundry, a change of meal hours with a put-up lunch at midday and the meaty meal after the heavy work is done, such as most continental agriculturists have always had.

Seeks Guard to Protect Whisky.

Declaring that he had been given a tip that robbers had arraigned to help themselves to a number of barrels of whisky in the cellar of his Fairview residence J. C. [illegible], a former Philadelphia hotel proprietor, appealed to Sheriff Jacob Hamilton of Conshohocken, requesting that he be given some protection. The sheriff took him to the police station, but as he resides above Norristown he is out of the district, and assistance could not be given. Detective Harry Nuss, of Norristown, volunteered to go on duty at the Bludell home and will keep an eye on the would-be robbers. He says he was told the robbers would appear as government officers and carry off the barrels containing the liquor.

State Trees Planted.

The Pennsylvania department of Forestry this spring has shipped 12,601 shade trees from its four nurseries for planting in various parts of the state. All of the trees were given free to other State departments, State hospitals, shade tree commissions, school authorities, colleges, fresh air farms, and parks.

There were 20 different species of trees represented in the shipments. The largest number were white pines, followed by elms, birch pines, Banks pines, and Norway spruce. Most of the trees were suitable only for ornamental planting, not for street or shade trees. Consequently, the short supply of shade trees was exhausted early in the shipping season, and the department of forestry was obliged to refuse many applications for shade trees which it could not fill.

22 municipalities were given free 3,065 shade trees for planting along streets, in parks and for memorial purposes. To the public schools there were given 747 trees for beautifying the grounds of 26 buildings. More than 2,500 trees were sent to churches, cemeteries, parks, and public institutions.

Colleges and fresh air farm planted 4,356 trees given to them by the department and state institutions for planting on property owned by the commonwealth.

Steal School Flag.

Some person or persons several days ago, climed to the top of the flag pole on the grounds of the West Norriton School building and cut the flag rope, taking it away with them. It is estimated at least 30 feet of rope was thus stolen.

Both positions are tributes to his cleverness as an artist.

Garage Man Hurt.

When gasoline fumes that lurked in the big galvanized tank outside the J. M. Godshalk garage, Lansdale exploded one morning recently, George Kister, of Line Lexington, was hurled to the ground. His face was lacerated by flying stones and he was bruised. He was not burned.

Kister, who is employed at the garage, was engaged in soldiering the 500-gallon tank in front of the building. It had been drained. The fumes were ignited by the soldering torch.

Some Old Fellows Secure Marriage Licenses.

A license was granted by the Montgomery county court to Wm. R. Bradfort engineer, 73 years old, and Ellen Winterbottom, no occupation, 59, both of Philadelphia. Both were married before. Mr. Bradfort became a widower in 1918, and Mrs. Winterbottom, a widow, in 1915.

Andrew Deetz, a machinist, 62 years old, secured a license to wed Ada Irene Greger, houseworker, 53. Both are residents of Roxborough, and this is the second matrimonial adventure for each. Mr. Deetz's first wife died in 1895. Mrs. Greger secured a divorce from her husband, last month, on the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment.

A license was issued to Joseph A. Morgan, 52 years old, a carpenter, of Worcester, to take unto himself a third bride in the person of Annie Lysinger, a nurse, of Norristown. Mr. Morgan was left a widower, first on April 17, 1899, and again on November 15, 1915. The bride has also been married before, but secured a divorce May 22, 1915, on the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Asleep Driving His Car

To fall asleep at the wheel of a touring car which he was operating and experienced a rude awakening when the car ran head-on into a telephone pole was the trilling experiende of Edwin Streapy, Perkasie, recently.

The accident occurred on the Ridge road as he was returning to his home after operating the car continuously for 16 hours. The radiator of the car was slightly damaged.

Hospital Drive Chairmen

Three additional district chairmen have been appointed for the $75,000 drive for funds being made by the Grand View Hospital. They are Edwin A. Souder, West Rockhill district, No. 2; G. G. Reiff, Souderton district; David K. Allebach, Hatfield township.

New Dog License Law.

Approval by Governor Sproul of the house bill establishing a new dog license act and repealing the old act of 1917 transfers the authority for enforcement of the law from the commissioners of the various counties to the state department of agriculture.

The new law will prove a boon to sheep, poultry and livestock raisers because it will be more strictly enforced than was the old law, but will result in a loss of considerable revenue to some of the counties. Under the old law the counties detained what was left of the license moneys after reimbursing farmers whose livestock and poultry was killed or injured by stray dogs, under the new law all the license fees are turned over to the state. Last year Montgomery county received $12,384 and Bucks, $7167 from this source.

The new law goes into effect next year. Dogs six months or over must be licensed on or before January 15, next year. A license fee of $1 for males, $2 for unspayed females, $5 for a kennel of ten dogs or less and $10 for more than ten dogs is provided. The county treasurer is to get a fee of 10 cents for each license issued. Assessors also are to get five cents for each dog enumerated in their district.

For killing and disposing of a dog a constable or other officer is to get $2 instead of $1 as under the old law, and also will receive a fee of $2 for the seizure and detention of any unlicensed dog found running at large. The secretary of agricultre may appoint special employes to help enforce the act.

—An airbrake manufacturing plant is a prospective new industry in Pottstown if a suitable site can be purchased.

—Penn Gun Club has elected as president Thomas V. Smith, who 30 years helped organize the club at Norristown.

—Mrs. Andrew Wismer of Warrington, fell down the stair steps while cleaning house and painfully cut and bruised both arms.

Harry Barras, D. D. A feature of this year's celebration was the attendance of the three sons of a former pastor of the church, the Rev. Thomas Trotter, Sr. A short address was delivered by Thomas Trotter, Jr., who had not been in attendance at a service in the church for 45 years. Mr. Trotter, Sr., was a prominent figure in the local church, of which he was pastor more than a half century ago. The attendance was large, and the cemetery adjoining the church looked beautiful. The walks were regraveled, and there were many beautiful flowers seen upon the graves.

ORELAND.

If the plans and the work that the 4th of July committee is now outlining for the home celebration of the nation's birthday in Oreland are carried out with the same thoroughness with which the committee is handling the affair, then a mighty fine, safe and sane 4th is assured t othe people of this town. The general committee is right on the job and the separate committees to handle all the various phases of the day's activities are appointed and are hard at work. Men have willingly come forward with financial help, and the sevuring of the beautiful flag and pole is now assured The location is still to be decided. The various details of the parade, the ball game, the athletic games, tennis matches and refreshments are shaping themselves, so that a good time will be enjoyed by levery one in Oreland on the 4th of July.

The baseball team of the Community Brotherhood is preparing for the coming game with the Whitemarsh Brotherhood for Memorial day.

Mr. Smith, of Park avenue, is having a roadway constructed to his garage. It will be an improvement to his property. George Aiman is doing the work.

Mrs. Neurath, of Bala avenue., has just returned to her home after an extended stay with friends in Baltimore.

Friends from Glenside were visiting the Martins, of Bala avenue, on Sunday.

The future home of C. E. Karlson is fast rounding into shape and he will be avery welcome addition to the community.

The quoit throwers of Park avenue are busy every evening limbering up the old wings. What is the object? Are they going to stage a marathon contest or are they going to get ready to accept the challenge which they have sidestepped for some time.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. R. Everitt on Tuesday evening.

There was a good attendance at Sunday school at the Lutheran church last Sunday in spite of the extremely hot day. The lesson, "The Christian Home," was very timely and was well worth the attention of any adult. The Bible class is taught by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Parsons, and a welcome awaits any resident in Oreland or any visitor to spend an hour with this class. Any person may attend the class as a visitor without having necessarily to join the class. The Sunday school starts at 2.30 o'clock, and services last one hour during the summer months,

The services at the Lutheran church are being well attended, and the sermons are appreciated by those who have the good fortune to hear them.

The sermon next Sunday will be of a patriotic nature preceeding the celebration of Memorial day. Preaching services start at 7.30 o'clock.

A meeting of the teachers and officers of the Lutheran Sunday school was held at the home of Mrs. Jones on Weldy avenue, on Wednesday evening. Adult mebers of the school work and plans for the future were discussed. A regular monthly meeting night will probably be the outcome of this meeting.

TOWN TOPICS.

John Davis is having a shingle roof placed on his barn.

Samuel Nice is operating a fine new truck in his newspaper deliveries.

Wm. C. Irvin, of Greenwood avenue, deputy controller of Montgomery county, has been confined to his home suffering from a carbuncle.

Councilman J. J. Diver has rented his furnished home, on Bethlehem avenue, for the summer to John C. F. Gordon, and on June 4 will occupy his seashore home at Ocean City, N. J.

Undertaker Jesse F. Davis last week shipped the body of Miss Gertrude O'Brien, who died in the Chestnut Hill hospital, to her home in Scranton. The deceased was 22 years of age and was a servant in the home of Mrs. Dodge.

The Wissahickon Building and Loan association, which has grown rapidly since its start some years ago, is obliged to ask its stockholders for an increase of its capital from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000. The special meeting for this purpose will be held on August 3.

Thomas Truman, who conducts a bakery in the "Gazette" building, is preparing to install a large modern oven and other up-to-date appliances in connection with his growing business. He has rented the apartments and store for many years occupied by H. S. Cope and family and will remove his store later to that side of the "Gazette" building.

William Blessing, aged 13, of Ambler, one day last week fell in with George Davis, of Osage avenue, Philadelphia, who is about the same age and both proceeded to go west and fight Indians. However, a policeman interferred with their progress at Hillcrest and Germantown avenues and they were detained until the arrival of their parents.

At a regular meeting of the Reindeers on last Wednesday evening the ladies' lodge gave the men a surprise social. A victrola was installed which gave those present all the dancing they desired. Then ice cream and cake were served. Another social will be held in the near future to which members and their friends are invited. Among those present were: Miss McCall, of North Wales; Miss Cell, of Springhouse; Miss Carney, of Gwynedd; Charles McGuire, of North Wales; Thos. Frederick, of Gwynedd; P. Carney, Frank Carney, George Adams, Cecil Adams, E. A. Lancaster and family, Wm. Wells, William Lancaster, Sr., and family, William Lancaster, Jr., and family, of Pittsburgh; Harold Stephens, O. E. Stannard, Wm. Deck, J. Tizenfritz and family, Mrs. George Thomas, Alberta Tomas, J. J. Linke, John Buchert, Sr., John Buchert, Jr., and others. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed.

County Farm Crop Prospect Good.

The Montgomery county board of poor directors are well pleased with the prospects of record crops at the county home farm this year. They believe the farm will eventually maintain the institution. After an inspection they agreed that this season will bring forth the greatest production of food supplies in the history of the farm. Steward John H. Bartman announces that the total receipts for the past month amounted to nearly $1200. Of the 166 inmates, 62 are under treatment at the county home hospital. At present there are eight men under parole from the county jail working on the farm.

Hatboro Ball Players.

Manager George Kolbe, of Hatboro, has signed up and forwarded to the league secretary names of the following players: Burns, last year with Newtown: "Whitey," Ambler and Klump, with Doylestown last year; Smith of the Logan A. A., a portsider, who comes here with a good reputation; "Lefty" Buskirk, of last year's team; Hughes, of Klauder-Weldon club, the star short-stop of this section; Wright, Houche, Morris, Winner, Allen, Fincke, Kooker and "Ted" Smith. Ambler will captain the team. The club will carry three twirlers and two catchers.

An Unusual Instrument.

In the museum of the Montgomery County Historical Society, in Norristown, says the Phila. Record, is a musical instrument that looks like a "square piano." It is a piano, but it is also an organ. Musicians who have examined it say they never saw anything like it elsewhere.

The marvelous thing about it is that all the mechanism of the organ is contained in an ordinary-sized piano, in addition to the piano equipment. An organ-maker recently visited the museum and was so much interested in the instrument that he carefully repaired it, and now it can be used either as a piano or an organ.

The instrument was made many years ago to order for a welthy Norristown family, and is said to have cost $800. The case is splendidly carved. Some years ago the affects of the family owning it were sold at auction, and the piano found a buyer for $15. He placed it in the historical Society's museum.

Pennsburg Tax Raised.

Pennsburg town council has fixed the tax rate for the ensuing year at nine mills, an increase of one mill over the levy of last year. A poll tax of one dollar was also decided upon. Through the giving of the women voting privileges the income from the poll tax will be practically double that of last year. No electric light tax was levied. This tax was dropped last last year. This tax was dropped last year and the same action was taken this year. The tax rate fixed by Pennsburg School Board is 12 1-2 mills. This is one-half mill higher than last year.

—While visiting her son, Mrs. Elizabeth Benning aged 65, of Norristown fell down stairs and died a few hours later.

List of Names Selected for Criminal Court.

For the June term of criminal court which will convene Monday, June 13, the names of 24 women have been drawn for jury service.

Of this number four are for the Grand Jury.

In order to meet the emergencies which have arisen at the recent criminal sessions, whereby extra jurors had to be summoned in order to maintain progress in the disposal of the criminal cases, the court directed the Jury Commissioners, Messrs, Walter Jenkins and Francis Fryer, to withdraw from wheel, for the coming courts, the names of 80 persons instead of 72, as heretofore, for the trial panel.

Will Teach Farming to Hatfield Pupils.

With the uniting of the schools of Hatfield borough and Hatfield township, in a new consolidated school building about to be erected on a tract of land along the Cow Path Road leading out of Hatfield, there is to be carried into development an innovation that will be watched with no little interest.

The two school districts have purchased a tract of 11 acres to be used for the school site and it is possible that this may be increased in order that the school building will be placed within the lines of the borough rather than in the township.

This is the largest tract of land provided for any school building in any school building in any district in the county, but various uses are to be made of it in addition to space for the new structure.

A portion will be set aside for what is to be a fully equipped athletic field and a play ground, but the grater portion is to be utilized for the teaching of agricultural science to the student body, and to this end considerable attention will be given. It was because of this understanding, insisted upon by the township people when the consolidation idea was finally endorsed, that the taxpayers of the township, almost all of whom are farmers, gave their assent, at the polls, to the bond issue which is to provide the means for the erection and equippment of the new school and surroundings

Pay Day Advanced.

Pay day at the plans of the Sschuylkill Iron Works and the J. Wood Iron and Steel Company has been advanced from Saturday to Friday.

The company has cut down the working week of these plants from five and one-half days to four and one-half.

The men who have been employed by the week will, until further notice, complete their week's work on Friday, at noon, instead of Saturday.

Tax Collector Appointed.

Fred Haws has been appointed by Judge Swartz as tax collector for West Norriton township to succeed Joseph C. Middleton, who has resigned.

Entitled to County Memorial Day Help.

Under a measure passed at the late session of the legislature, the American Legion is now entitled to receive from counties the same cash appropriation given to war veterans of other organizations, for observance of Memorial Day.

Up to this time, however, no request has been received from the Althouse Post, of Norristown, and a request must be made to secure the appropriation. The county commissioners are looking up the new law on this point to determine whether the usual sum of $50 has been raised, as a number of bills bearing on this matter were introduced and few know which of them survived.

C. of C. Offers Essay Prizes.

Conshohocken chamber of commerce will give prizes to students of both the public and St. Matthew's parochial schools. The prizes will be awarded for the best essay written by a high school student on the subject. "What Effort can the chamber of commerce Put Forth to Best Stimulate the Town's Activities?" $10 will be given for the best essay and $5 for the second best. Announcement of the contest will be made i nthe schools and all essays will have to be submitted not later than May 26.

Miss Smebody Else.

The Ambler high school students presented Miss "Somebody Else" in a very creditable manner on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of last week in the Ambler opera house. Quite a large audience greeted the students on both evenings. Miss Mida Gelbert ably presented the character of "Miss Somebody Else" and she was excellently supported by Miss Dorothy Choate, Miss Margaret Acuff, Miss Eleanor Matz, Miss Mary Lauer, Miss Freda Brister, Miss Julia Compton, Miss Dorothy Norris, Miss Jane Griffith, Louis Stevens, Russell Pullinger, James Colgan, Stebbins Hipple, Kenneth Weidner, and Sherman Prince.

The play was most enjoyable, and each of the students, who performed executed the part excellently, especially is this true of Miss Acuff, who was seen as "Mildred Delavan," and Miss Choate, who took part of "Mrs. Delavan." Miss Lauer, as the French maid, "Celeste," was a splendid success as was also Miss Matz, as "Susan Ruggs," the Irish maid, Miss Scudder tok the part of "Mrs. Blainwood," which character she took in able manner and she was splendidly assisted by Miss Jane Griffith, as "Fray Blainwood," and Jame Colgan, as "Crugh Blainwood." The parts, of "Fred Mason," Mrs. Herrick, " "Alice Stafley," "John," a servant, "Jasper Delavan," Ralph Hastings," "Bert Shaffer" were all well taken by the following students in the order named: Freda Brister, Julia Compton, Dorothy Norris, Russell Pullinger, Stebbins Hipple, Kenneth Weidner. Too much praise cannot be given Miss Gelbert, who acted the leading part, and was seen as "Constance Darcy," Miss Somebody Else." Miss Gelbert acted well the part, even to her Irish dialect, and her many amusing phrases and her ready Irish wit was very wtll received by the audience on both evening. Another enjoyable feature was the excellent music furnished by the orchestra under the leadership of John Lucas, a graduate of the class of 1920. A clarinet solo by Mr. R. F. Lamphere, was an added feature to the program.

To Enforce Curfew Ordinance.

The curfew ordinance adopted by town council at the April Meeting will be enforced this week. The Conshohocken Washington Fire company has been asked to sound its siren at 9.15 each evening, after which all children under 16 years of age, unless escorted by parents or guardian must be off the streets. Children unescorted will be detained by the police unless the child bars a note of permission from a parent stating that the child is upon a necessary errand. If, after being notified, the parent does not respond, the child will be taken to the house of detention by the policemen.

Treatment of Common Colds.

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack" says a well known physician "there would be fewer cases dragging on with distressing symptoms for weeks and often ending in some more serious disease." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should also take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should be moved each day. may

New Law With Regards Restaurants.

The Miller bill, requiring every person employed in hotels, restaurants, dining cars or public eating places in Pennsylvania, to obtain a certificate from a physician showing freedom from infections or contagious diseases has been signed by Governor Sproul. It amends the act of 191 and extends the eating place regulations to drinking places, requires utensils and wash rooms to be kept in a sanitary condition.

About Digestion.

When needed take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the digestion and insure a regular movement of the bowels. may

New Game Law.

Governor Sproul has signed the Catlin House bill making numerous changes in the game code.

The Catlin bill provides that the small game season, with a few exceptions, shall be in November; the bear season November 1 to December 15; the woodcock October 1 to November 30; rabbits the same as bear, and the deer the first 15 days of December.

Changes in the bag limit make three the limit each for ruffed grouse and ringnecked pheasants and five for rabbits in one day and 15 grouse and six ring-necks in a season.

Killing of game while damaging crops is permitted, but notice must be given immediately to a game official. Proof must also be given if demanded.

Memorial Day Exercises at Fort Washington.

Memorial day this year will be one in which we must give special thought for those of our American citizens who made the sacrifice of life and energies in upholding the principles of our government in the civil and national conflicts passed and passing into memory. Before the chaos of the present, consequent upon the World war, the youth of our land showed a respectful consideration for the memories of those endeared in history and for the sincere enthusiasm of those who survived the strain and stress as veterans. Today all who are of school age and older are conscious of the realities of war and few have escaped the shadows of lost friends and loved ones.

On May 30th next, Memorial day will be marked by a more than usual celebration on Fort Hill, Fort Washington. A program of great interest will be prepared. Patriotic addresses and songs, a military pageant including all the schools of several townships and patriotic societies of the vicinity. Judge John Faber Miller, of Montgomery county, wil make the address. Commander Edward F. Quinn, William Boulton Dixon, Post No. 10, the American Legion, will preside at the exercises.

An invitation is cordially extended to every one to join with heart and void in tribute to the memory of the valiant boys who did their faithful duty for this land of their birth and of adoption. Trains and trolley arriving about 10 a. m., at Fort Washington station bring you within easy walking distance of the historic redoubt and give you a view of the land rich in memories of Revolutionary times and the silent appeal of love for the undying dead.

NeedleWork Guild Annual Meeting Held in Philadelphia.

The 36th annual convention of the Needlework Guild of Aemica was held in Philadelphia on May 5 and 6 in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. The president, Mrs. Truman Newberry, opened with an address after which Mayor Moore extended the City's welcome to the guests.

The general impress from the meeting was that the work has grown numerically in branches, in garments. in members and in enlivened interest. Miss Rosamond Bender, national exductive secretary, ably described the quiet working of the Guild to be like that of a mother, but she voiced the sentiment of many in suggesting wider publicity for the Guild. Another comment of Miss Bender was that on the value of visiting the places to which guild garments go and to secure understanding of the needs. Francis H. Green, who gave the address Thursday afternoon, chose to speak on "Do You Pay Your Debts?" Learn the need and do the deed was a statement reiterated as the speaker referred to our great and perhaps unpaid debts to the noble people of all periods from Noah and his ark building down to date. This knowing the need and doing the deed, he classed as a partial payment on our debt to life.

Mrs. John Wood Stewart, founder of the Guild, herself gave a characteristic address which teemed with belief in the guild and its great possibility for doubling results through efforts. Mrs. Steward brought a fine surprise in Mme. Castell of France, who was commissioned to visit America at this time to attend the Guild Meeting Mme. Castell has been in charge of the Guild relief in St. Quentin. She told of the great joy and comfort and returning health to the townspeople because of the Guild. More than 100 children were adopted in a few minutes. The Ambler Branch offered to adopt two more at this meeting, this making four for the Ambler Branch.

The crowning featu , however, was the reception to the officers and delegates tendered by Mrs. George Fales Baker in the Stratford room on Thursday night.
